

CONDUCT OF LIFE—ADVICE, BEST QUOTES ON THE

The most solid comfort one can fall back upon is the thought that the business of one's life is to help in some small way to reduce the sum of ignorance, degradation, and misery on the face of this beautiful earth.

--George Eliot

Be the person your dog thinks you are!

—J. W. Stephens

Be the reason someone smiles today.

—Nicholas Khoo

If you do not think about your future, you cannot have one.

--John Galsworthy

The best use of life is to spend it for something that outlasts life.

--William James

Make it a rule of life never to regret and never look back. Regret is an appalling waste of energy; you can't build on it; it's good only for wallowing in.

--Katharine Mansfield

Don't let the darkness from your past block the light of joy in your present. What happened is done. Stop giving time to things which no longer exist, when there is so much joy to be found here and now.

—Karen Salmansohn

Let us endeavor so to live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry.

--Mark Twain

It's your attitude not your aptitude that determines your altitude!

--Zig Ziglar

We have no more right to put our discordant states of mind into the lives of those around us and rob them of their sunshine and brightness than we have to enter their houses and steal their silverware.

--Julia Moss Seton

So live that you wouldn't be ashamed to sell the family parrot to the town gossip.

--Will Rogers

Learn to say no. It will be of more use to you than to be able to read Latin.

--Charles Haddon
Spurgeon

This is a record of your time. This is your movie. Live out your dreams and fantasies. Whisper questions to the Sphinx at night. Sit for hours at sidewalk cafes and drink with your heroes. Make pilgrimages to Mougins and Abiquiu. Look up and down. Believe in the unknown for it is there. Live in many places. Live with flowers and music and books and paintings and sculpture. Keep a record of your time. Learn to read well. Learn to listen and speak well. Know your country, know your world, know your history, know yourself. Take care of yourself physically and mentally. You owe it to yourself. Be good to those around you. And do all of these things with passion. Give all that you can. Remember, Life is short and Death is long.

--Fritz Shoulder

Life is ten percent what you make it, and ninety percent how you take it.

--Irving Berlin

Be sure in your daily planner to write down the word 'play.' Do something for you that will make you smile and laugh because that day will never come again.

--Juli Hutson

Never bend your head.

Always hold it high.

Look the world straight in the eye.

--Helen Keller

It is natural to revive fond memories, but one can't dwell in the past and stay whole. Seek to keep the past in its place, and strive to make the present more pleasant.

--Dan L. Miller

Eat a live toad the first thing in the morning and nothing worse will happen to you the rest of the day.

—Mark Twain

Life should not be a journey to the grave with the intention of arriving safely in a pretty and well preserved body, but rather to skid in broadside in a cloud of smoke, thoroughly used up, totally worn out, and loudly proclaiming ‘Wow! What a Ride!’

--Hunter S. Thompson

Your fear of looking stupid is holding you back!

—Shannon Luxford

None of us are getting out of here alive, so please stop treating yourself like an after thought. Eat the delicious food. Walk in the sunshine. Jump in the ocean. Say the truth that you’re carrying in your heart like hidden treasure. Be silly. Be kind. Be weird. There’s no time for anything else.

—Nanea Hoffman

Three simple rules in life: If you do not go after what you want, you’ll never have it. If you do not ask, the answer will always be no. If you do not step forward, you will always be in the same place.

—Internet Meme

Life is so short. We spend so much time sweating the small stuff; worrying, complaining, gossiping, comparing, wishing, wanting and waiting for something bigger and better instead of focusing on all the simple blessings that surround us every day. Life is so fragile, and all it takes is a simple moment to change everything you take for granted. Focus on what’s important and be grateful! You are blessed. Believe it! Live your life and leave no regrets!

—Melanie Koulouris

Get pleasure out of life...as much as you can. Nobody ever died from pleasure.

--Sol Hurok

The person who tries to live alone will not succeed as a human being. His heart withers if it does not answer another heart. His mind shrinks away if he hears only the echoes of his own thoughts and finds no other inspiration.

--Pearl S. Buck

To dream of the person you would like to be is to waste the person you are.

--Sholem Asch

One ought, every day at least, to hear a little song, read a good poem, see a fine picture, and, if it were possible, to speak a few reasonable words.

--Johann Wolfgang von
Goethe

DUST IF YOU MUST

Dust if you must, but wouldn't it be better,
To paint a picture or write a letter,
Bake a cake or plant a seed,
Ponder the difference between want and need?

Dust if you must, but there's not much time,
With rivers to swim and mountains to climb,
Music to hear and books to read,
Friends to cherish and life to lead.

Dust if you must, but the world's out there
With the sun in your eyes, the wind in your hair,
A flutter of snow, a shower of rain.
This day will not come 'round again.

Dust if you must, but bear in mind,
Old age will come and it's not always kind.
And when you go and go you must,
You, yourself, will make more dust.

—Rose Milligan

Whatever you do always give 100% (unless you're donating blood).

—Bill Murray

Attitude is more important than the past, than education, than money, than circumstances, than what other people think or say or do. It is more important than appearance, giftedness or skill. It will make or break a company, a church, a home.

--Charles Swindoll

Never be defined by your past. It was a lesson, not a life sentence.

Live beneath your means.
Return everything you borrow.
Stop blaming other people.
Admit it when you make a mistake.
Give clothes not worn in 3 years to charity.
Do something nice and try not to get caught.
Listen more talk less.
Every day take a 30 minute walk,
Strive for excellence, not perfection.
Be on time
Don't make excuses.
Don't argue.
Get organized
Be kind to kind people.
Be kind to unkind people.
Let someone cut ahead of you in line.
Take time to be alone.
Reread your favorite book.
Cultivate good manners.
Be humble.
Realize and accept that life isn't fair.
Know when to keep your mouth shut.
Go an entire day without criticizing anyone.
Learn from the past.
Plan for the future.
Live in the present
Don't sweat the small stuff.
It's all small stuff.

Life lived for tomorrow will always be just a day away from being realized.

—Leo Buscaglia

You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose.

—Dr. Seuss

Plough deep while sluggards sleep.

--Benjamin Franklin

The longer I live, the more I realize the impact of attitude on life. Attitude, to me, is more important than facts. It is more important than the past, the education, the money, than circumstances, than failure, than successes, than what other people think or say or do. It is more important than appearance, giftedness or skill. It will make or break a company... a church... a home. The remarkable thing is we have a choice everyday regarding the attitude we will embrace for that day. We cannot change our past... we cannot change the fact that people will act in a certain way. We cannot change the inevitable. The only thing we can do is play on the one string we have, and that is our attitude. I am convinced that life is 10% what happens to me and 90% of how I react to it. And so it is with you... we are in charge of our Attitudes.

—Charles R. Swindoll

Opportunity just exists in the air for a few minutes. If you don't obey your gut feeling right away, you've lost your chance.

--Ken Hakuta

Never regret. If it's good, it's wonderful. If it's bad, it's experience.

--Victoria Holt

Never be entirely idle; but either be reading, or writing, or praying or meditating or endeavoring something for the public good.

--Thomas a Kempis

The great danger for most of us is not that our aim is too high and we miss it, but that it is too low and we reach it.

--Michelangelo

Learn about life. Cut yourself a big slice with the silver server, a big slice of pie. Learn how the leaves grow on trees. Open your eyes. The thin new moon is on its back over the green Cities' Service cloverleaf and the lit brick hills of Watertown, God's luminous fingernail, a shut angel's eyelid. Learn how the moon goes down in the night frost before Christmas. Open your nostrils. Smell snow. Let life happen.

--Sylvia Plath

I want to be thoroughly used up when I die.

--George Bernard Shaw

If you're too sweet and nice, they just leave tire marks on your back.

--Gert Boyle

Imagine life as a game in which you are juggling some five balls in the air. You name them work, family, health, friends and spirit—and you're keeping all of these in the air. You will soon understand that work is a rubber ball. If you drop it, it will bounce back. But the other four balls—family, health, friends, and spirit—are made of glass. If you drop one of these, they will be irrevocably scuffed, marked, nicked, damaged or even shattered. They will never be the same. You must understand that and strive for balance in your life.

--Brian Dyson

How can you stuff a big life into a small dream?

--Joan Lunden

Keep away from people who try to belittle your ambitions. Small people always do that, but the really great make you feel that you too can become great.

--Mark Twain

I found out a long time ago that no matter how scared you are, you're a damned sight safer if nobody knows it.

--John L. McClellan

We who lived in concentration camps can remember the men who walked through the huts comforting others, giving away their last piece of bread. They may have been few in number, but they offer sufficient proof that everything can be taken from a man but one thing: the last of the human freedoms—to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances, to choose one's own way.

--Juvenal

Do more than you have to do, more than your share, and do it as well as you can.

--Ralph Charell

Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bow lines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Explore. Dream. Discover.

--Mark Twain

People are always blaming their circumstances for what they are. I don't believe in circumstances. The people who get on in this world are the people who get up and look for the circumstances they want, and if they can't find them, make them.

--George Bernard Shaw

It's a funny thing about life; if you refuse to accept anything but the best, you very often get it.

--W. Somerset Maugham

11 THINGS YOU DID NOT AND WILL NOT LEARN IN SCHOOL!

- Rule 1: Life is not fair—get used to it!
- Rule 2: The world won't care about your self-esteem. The world will expect you to accomplish something BEFORE you feel good about yourself.
- Rule 3: You will NOT make $60,000 a year right out of high school. You won't be a vice-president with a car phone until you earn both.
- Rule 4: If you think your teacher is tough, wait till you get a boss.
- Rule 5: Flipping burgers is not beneath your dignity. Your Grandparents had a different word for burger flipping: they called it opportunity.
- Rule 6: If you mess up, it's not your parents' fault, so don't whine about your mistakes, learn from them.
- Rule 7: Before you were born, your parents weren't as boring as they are now. They got that way from paying your bills, cleaning your clothes and listening to you talk about how cool you thought you were. So before you save the rain forest from the parasites of your parent's generation, try delousing the closet in your own room.
- Rule 8: Your school may have done away with winners and losers, but life HAS NOT. In some schools, they have abolished failing grades and they'll give you as MANY TIMES as you want to get the right answer. This doesn't bear the slightest resemblance to ANYTHING in real life.
- Rule 9: Life is not divided into semesters. You don't get summers off and very few employers are interested in helping you FIND YOURSELF. Do that on your own time.
- Rule 10: Television is NOT real life. In real life people actually have to leave the coffee shop and go to jobs.
- Rule 11: Be nice to nerds. Chances are you'll end up working for one.

—Bill Gates

The tragedy in life doesn't lie in not reaching your goal. The tragedy lies in having no goal to reach. It isn't a calamity to die with dreams unfulfilled, but it is certainly a calamity not to dream. It is not a disaster to be unable to capture your ideal, but it is a disaster to have no ideal to capture.

--Benjamin E. Mays

Virtuous men do good by setting themselves up as models before the public, but I do good by setting myself up as a warning.

--Michel de Montaigne

It is right to be contented with what we have, never with what we are.

--James Mackintosh

I would rather be ashes than dust! I would rather that my spark should burn out in a brilliant blaze than it should be stifled by dry-rot. I would rather be a superb meteor, every atom of me in magnificent glow, than a sleepy and permanent planet. The proper function of man is to live, not to exist. I shall not waste my days in trying to prolong them. I shall use my time.

—Jack London

The supreme goal of man is to fulfill himself as a creative, unique individual according to his own innate potentialities and within the limits of reality.

--Carl Jung

Life is too short for mean anxieties.

--Charles Kingsley

Life is something like this trumpet. If you don't put anything in it, you don't get anything out. And that's the truth.

--William C. Handy

Use your eyes as if tomorrow you would be stricken blind; hear the music of voices, the song of a bird, as if you would be stricken deaf tomorrow. Touch each object as if tomorrow your tactile sense would fail. Smell the perfume of flowers, taste with relish each morsel, as if tomorrow you could never smell and taste again.

--Helen Keller

For my part, I live every day as if this were the first day I had ever seen and the last day I were going to see.

--William Lyon Phelps

Early in life I decided that I would not be overcome by events. My philosophy has been that regardless of the circumstances, I shall not be vanquished, but will try to be happy. Life is not easy for any of us. But it is a continual challenge and it is up to us to be cheerful—and to be strong, so that those who depend on us may draw strength from our example.

--Rose Kennedy

The superior man is he who develops, in harmonious proportions, his moral, intellectual, and physical nature. This should be the end at which men of all classes should aim, and it is this only which constitutes real greatness.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN LIFE

Make up your mind to be happy.
Learn to find pleasure in simple things.

Make the best of your circumstances. No one has everything, and everyone has something of sorrow intermingled with the gladness of life. The trick is to make the laughter outweigh the tears.

Don't take yourself too seriously. Don't think that somehow you should be protected from misfortunes that befall others.

You can't please everybody. Don't let criticism worry you.

Don't let your neighbor set your standards. Be yourself.

Do the things you enjoy doing, but stay out of debt.

Don't borrow trouble. Imaginary burdens are harder to bear than the actual ones.

Since hate poisons the soul do not cherish enmities or grudges. Avoid people who make you unhappy.

Have many interests. If you can't travel, read about new places.

Don't hold postmortems. Don't spend your life brooding over sorrows and mistakes. Don't be one who never gets over things.

Do what you can for those less fortunate than yourself.

Keep busy at something. A busy person never has time to be unhappy.

--Robert Louis Stevenson

Take care to get what you like or you will be forced to like what you get.

—George Bernard Shaw

The maxim 'Nothing avails but perfection' may be spelled 'Paralysis.'

--Sir Winston Churchill

Perfectionism is the voice of the oppressor, the enemy of the people. It will keep you cramped and insane your whole life, and it is the main obstacle between you and a shitty first draft. I think perfectionism is based on the obsessive belief that if you run carefully enough, hitting each stepping-stone just right, you won't have to die. The truth is that you will die anyway and that a lot of people who aren't even looking at their feet are going to do a whole lot better than you, and have a lot more fun while they're doing it.

—Anne Lamott

Life is change. Growth is optional. Choose wisely.

--Karen Kaiser Clark

Knowing is not enough; we must apply. Willing is not enough; we must do.

--Johann Wolfgang von
Goethe

Every man, however obscure, however far removed from the general recognition, is one of a group of men impressible for good, and impressible for evil, and it is in the nature of things that he cannot really improve himself without in some degree improving other men.

--Charles Dickens

No person who is enthusiastic has anything to fear from life.

--Sam Goldwyn

I think the American dream of always being number one in everything is not necessarily realistic. That should not be the goal. The ultimate goal should be doing your best and enjoying it; participating in life and being honest and fair to everyone as well as yourself.

--Peggy Fleming

Rudeness is a weak person's imitation of strength.

--Eric Hoffer

There is more to life than increasing its speed.

--Mahatma Gandhi

There is no course of life so weak and sottish as that which is managed by order, method and discipline.

--Michel de Montaigne

Risk...

To laugh is to risk being the fool.

To weep is to risk appearing sentimental.

To reach out for another is to risk involvement.

To expose feelings is to risk exposing your true self.

To place your ideas, your dreams, before a group is to risk their loss.

To love is to risk not being loved in return.

To live is to risk dying.

To hope is to risk despair.

To try is to risk failure.

But risks must be taken, because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing.

The person who risks nothing has nothing, and is nothing.

They may avoid suffering and sorrow, but they cannot

If someone says something unkind about you, live your life so that no one will believe it.

--John M. Capozzi

We ought not to look back unless it is to derive useful lessons from past errors, and for the purpose of profiting by dear-bought experience.

--George Washington

We should every night call ourselves to an account: What infirmity have I mastered today? what passions opposed? what temptations resisted? what virtue acquired? Our vices abate of themselves if they are brought every day to the shrift.

--Seneca

The difficulty in life is the choice.

--George Moore

It is only with the heart that one can see rightly. What is essential is invisible to the eye.

--Antoine de
Saint-Exupéry

It's important to run not on the fast track, but on your track. Pretend you have only six months to live, and make three lists: the things you have to do, want to do, and neither have to do nor want to do. Then, for the rest of your life, forget everything on the third list.

--Robert Eliot

Everybody talks about wanting to change things and help and fix, but ultimately all you can do is fix yourself. And that's a lot. Because if you can fix yourself, it has a ripple effect.

--Rob Reiner

Who loves not wine, woman and song
Remains a fool his whole life long.

--Martin Luther

The unexamined life is not worth living.

--Socrates

Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life is made of.

--Benjamin Franklin

When I stand before God at the end of my life, I would hope that I would not have a single bit of talent left and could say, 'I used everything you gave me.'

--Erma Bombeck

You must learn day by day, year by year, to broaden your horizon. The more things you love, the more you are interested in, the more you enjoy, the more you are indignant about, the more you have left when anything happens.

--Ethel Barrymore

Don't be afraid your life will end; be afraid that it will never begin.

--Grace Hansen

I finally figured out the only reason to be alive is to enjoy it.

--Rita Mae Brown

What a death in life it must be—an existence whose sole aim is good eating and drinking, splendid houses and elegant clothes! Not that these things are bad in moderation—and with something higher beyond. But with nothing beyond?

--Dinah Maria Mulock

When doubts and fears are growing,
It's hard to keep on going
From day to day not knowing
Just what the end will be.
Take each day as you find it,
If things go wrong, don't mind it,
For each day leaves behind it
A chance to start anew.

--Gertrude Ellgas

What good are vitamins? Eat a lobster, eat a pound of caviar—live! If you are in love with a beautiful blonde with an empty face and no brains at all, don't be afraid. Marry her! Live!

--Arthur Rubinstein

I can find no more comfortable frame of mind for the conduct of life than a humorous resignation.

--W. Somerset Maugham

How far you go in life depends on you being tender with the young, compassionate with the aged, sympathetic with the striving, and tolerant of the weak and the strong. Because someday in your life you will have been all of these.

--George Washington
Carver

All animals except man know that the ultimate of life is to enjoy it.

--Samuel Butler

A man either lives life as it happens to him, meets it head-on and licks it, or he turns his back on it and starts to wither away.

--Gene Roddenberry

The future you shall know when it has come; before then, forget it.

--Aeschylus

Live all you can; it's a mistake not to. It doesn't so much matter what you do in particular, so long as you have your life. If you haven't had that, what have you had?

--Henry James

People do not care how nobly they live, only how long, despite the fact that it is within everyone's reach to live nobly, but within no one's reach to live long.

--Seneca

There is no meaning to life except the meaning man gives his life by the unfolding of his powers, by living productively.

--Erich Fromm

All we do is done with an eye to something else.

--Aristotle

Restfulness is a quality for cattle; the virtues are all active, life is alert.

--Robert Louis Stevenson

You don't get to choose how you're going to die. Or when. You can only decide how you're going to live. Now.

--Joan Baez

When we're really honest with ourselves we must admit that our lives are all that really belong to us. So, it is how we use our lives that determines what kind of man we are. It is my deepest belief that only by giving our lives do we find life. I am convinced that the truest act of courage, the strongest act of manliness is to sacrifice for others in a totally nonviolent struggle for justice.

--César Chávez

Moderation is all things. Not too much of life. It often lasts too long.

--H. L. Mencken

A too modest man goes hungry.

--Ethiopian Proverb

Tomorrow is not promised to you. . . You've got to live as if it's the last day you have on this earth.

--Les Brown

Life is what you make of it.

--Traditional Wisdom

People don't plan to fail. They fail to plan.

--Mark McCormack

There is time enough for everything in the course of the day if you do but one thing at once; but there is not time enough in the year if you will do two things at a time.

--Lord Chesterfield

Who begins too much accomplishes little.

--German Proverb

The only things in which we can be said to have any property are our actions. Our thoughts may be bad, yet produce no poison; they may be good, yet produce no fruit. Our riches may be taken away by misfortune, our reputation by malice, our spirits by calamity, our health by disease, our friends by death. But our actions must follow us beyond the grave.

--Charles Caleb Colton

Aim at perfection in everything, though in most things it is unattainable. However, they who aim at it, and persevere, will come much nearer to it than those whose laziness and despondency make them give it up as unattainable.

--Lord Chesterfield

Habit is a cable; we weave a thread of it each day, and at last we cannot break it.

--Horace Mann

People seldom want to walk over you until you lie down.

--Elmer Wheeler

One of the best lessons that anyone can learn in life is how to use time wisely. Consider what can be done in ten minutes. If you need a little mental relaxation, you can sit down with a friend and play a game of cards. If you need some physical recreation, you can engage in a few exercises that will help tone up your body. Perhaps you have a friend who for weeks or months has been looking for a letter. Then there may be among your acquaintances someone whose friendship you would value highly and whose counsel would be profitable. Learn to use ten minutes intelligently. It will pay you huge dividends.

--William A. Irwin

No man lives without jostling and being jostled; in all ways he has to elbow himself through the world, giving and receiving offense.

--Thomas Carlyle

Iron rusts from disuse; water loses its purity from stagnation and in cold weather becomes frozen; even so does inaction sap the vigors of the mind.

-- Leonardo da Vinci

Tentative efforts lead to tentative outcomes. Therefore, give yourself fully to your endeavors. Decide to construct your character through excellent actions and determine to pay the price of a worthy goal. The trials you encounter will introduce you to your strengths. Remain steadfast...and one day you will build something that endures; something worthy of your potential.

--Epictetus

There is only one way to get ready for immortality, and that is to love this life and live it as bravely and faithfully and cheerfully as we can.

--Henry Van Dyke

A greater poverty than that caused by lack of money is the poverty of unawareness. Men and women go about the world unaware of the beauty, the goodness, the glories in it. Their souls are poor. It is better to have a poor pocketbook than to suffer from a poor soul.

--Thomas Dreier

The man who has not learned to say 'No' will be a weak if not a wretched man as long as he lives.

--Alexander Maclaren

A life that hasn't a definite plan is likely to become driftwood.

--David Sarnoff

It's what each of us sows, and how, that gives to us character and prestige. Seeds of kindness, goodwill, and human understanding, planted in fertile soil, spring up into deathless friendships, big deeds of worth, and a memory that will not soon fade out. We are all sowers of seeds—and let us never forget it!

--George Matthew Adams

NINE REQUISITES FOR CONTENTED LIVING:

Health enough to make work a pleasure.
Wealth enough to support your needs.
Strength to battle with difficulties and overcome them.
Grace enough to confess your sins and forsake them.
Patience enough to toil until some good is accomplished.
Charity enough to see some good in your neighbor.
Love enough to move you to be useful and helpful to others.
Faith enough to make real the things of God.
Hope enough to remove all anxious fears concerning the future.

--Johann Wolfgang von
Goethe

CAST OF CHARACTERS

I Won't is a tramp,
I Can't is a quitter,
I Don't Know is lazy,
I Wish I Could is a wisher,
I Might is waking up,
I Will Try is on his feet,
I Can is on his way,
I Will is at work,
I Did is now the boss.

--Earl Cassel

The first lesson of life is to burn our own smoke; that is, not to inflict on outsiders our personal sorrows and petty morbidness, not to keep thinking of ourselves as exceptional cases.

--James Russell Lowell

If we are ever to enjoy life, now is the time—not tomorrow, nor next year, nor in some future life after we have died. The best preparation for a better life next year is a full, complete, harmonious, joyous life this year. Our beliefs in a rich future life are of little importance unless we coin them into a rich present life. Today should always be our most wonderful day.

--Thomas Dreier

First health, then wealth, then pleasure, and do not owe anything to anybody.

--Catherine the Great

TEN POINTERS

1. Be yourself. Cultivate desirable qualities.
2. Be alert. Look for opportunities to express yourself.
3. Be positive. Determine your goal and the route to it.
4. Be systematic. Take one step at a time.
5. Be persistent. Hold to your course.
6. Be a worker. Work your brain more than your body.
7. Be a student. Know your job.
8. Be fair. Treat the other man as you would be treated.
9. Be temperate. Avoid excess in anything.
10. Be confident. Have faith that cannot be weakened.

--Everett W. Lord

To find one's work in the world and do it honorably, to keep one's record clean so that nothing clandestine, furtive, surreptitious can ever leap out upon one from ambush and spoil one's life, to be able, therefore, unafraid to look the world in the face, to live honorably also with one's own soul because one keeps there no secret place like the bloody closet in Bluebeard's palace where the dead things hang, to walk life's journey unhaunted by the ghosts of people from whose ruin one has stolen pleasure, and so at last to be a gentleman, one, that is, who puts a little more into life than one takes out—gather up the significance of such character, forty years old, sixty years old, eighty years old—one may well celebrate the solid satisfactions of such a life.

--Harry Emerson Fosdick

Don't worry about things you cannot alter.

--Catherine the Great

The follies which a man regrets most in his life are those which he didn't commit when he had the opportunity.

--Helen Rowland

For if there is a sin against life, it consists perhaps no so much in despairing of life as in hoping for another life and in eluding the implacable grandeur of this life.

--Albert Camus

You are looking for a rich husband. At your age I looked for hardship, danger, horror and death, that I might feel the life in me more intensely. I did not let the fear of death govern my life; and my reward was, I had my life. You are going to let the fear of poverty govern your life and your reward will be that you will eat, but you will not live.

--George Bernard Shaw

Gnaw the bone which is fallen to thy lot.

--Ben Syra

This is the true joy in life, the being used for a purpose recognized by yourself as a mighty one; the being thoroughly worn out before you are thrown on the scrap heap; the being a force of Nature instead of a feverish, selfish little clod of ailments and grievances complaining that the world will not devote itself to making you happy.

--George Bernard Shaw

My aim in life has always been to hold my own with whatever's going on. Not against: with.

--Robert Frost

Up, sluggards, and waste no life; in the grave will be sleeping enough.

--Benjamin Franklin

Keep your fingers away from a power saw—it doesn't know you need them.

You can't do anything about the length of your life, but you can do something about its width and depth.

—H. L. Mencken

Every man dies, but not every man has lived.

--William Wallace

Free will and determinism are like a game of cards: the hand that is dealt you is determinism; the way you play your hand is free will.

--Jawaharlal Nehru

DESIDERATA

Go placidly amid the noise and the haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible, without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even to the dull and the ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud and aggressive persons; they are vexatious to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain or bitter, for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs, for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals, and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment, it is as perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with dark imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe no less than the trees and the stars; you have right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be. And whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life, keep peace in your soul. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be cheerful. Strive to be happy.

--Max Ehrmann

Determine never to be idle. No person will have occasion to complain of the want of time who never loses any. It is wonderful how much may be done if we are always doing.

--Thomas Jefferson

Your living is determined not so much by what life brings to you...as by the attitude you bring to life.

--John Homer Mills

A DECALOGUE OF CANONS FOR OBSERVATION IN PRACTICAL LIFE

1. Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day.
2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend your money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want, because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
5. Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst and cold.
6. We never repent of having eaten too little.
7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
8. How much pain have cost us the evils which have never happened.
9. Take things always by their smooth handle.
10. When angry, count ten, before you speak; if very angry, a hundred.

--Thomas Jefferson

Man is born to live, not to prepare for life.

--Boris Pasternak

It costs so much to be a full human being that there are very few who have the enlightenment, or the courage, to pay the price....One has to abandon altogether the search for security, and reach out to the risk of living with both arms. One has to embrace the world like a lover, and yet demand no easy return of love. One has to accept pain as a condition of existence. One has to court doubt and darkness as the cost of knowing. One needs a will stubborn in conflict, but apt always to the total acceptance of every consequence of living and dying.

--Morris L. West

It is said an Eastern monarch once charged his wise men to invent him a sentence, to be ever in view, and which should be true and appropriate in all times and situations. They presented him the words: 'And this, too, shall pass away.' How much it expresses! How chastening in the hour of pride!—how consoling in the depth of affliction!

--Abraham Lincoln

Make no little plans; they have no magic to stir men's blood and probably themselves will not be realized. Make big plans; aim high in hope and work, remembering that a noble, logical diagram once recorded will never die, but long after we are gone will be a living thing, asserting itself with ever-growing insistency. Remember that our sons and grandsons are going to do things that would stagger us. Let your watchword be order and your beacon beauty.

--Daniel H. Burnham

Closed eyes can't see the white roses,
Cold hands can't hold them, you know,
Breath that is stilled cannot gather
The odors that sweet from them blow,
Death, with a peace beyond dreaming,
Its children of earth doth endow;
Life is the time we can help them,
So give them the flowers now!

Here are the struggles and striving,
Here are the cares and the tears;
Now is the time to be smoothing
The frowns and the furrows and fears.
What to closed eyes are kind sayings?
What to hushed heart is deep vow?
Naught can avail after parting,
So give them the flowers now!

Just a kind word or a greeting;
Just a warm grasp or a smile—
These are the flowers that will lighten
The burdens for many a mile.
After the journey is over
What is the use of them; how
Can they carry them who must be carried?
Oh, give them the flowers now!

Blooms from the happy heart's garden
Plucked in the spirit of love;
Blooms that are earthly reflections
Of flowers that blossom above.
Words cannot tell what a measure
Of blessings such gifts will allow
To dwell in the lives of many,
So give them the flowers now!

IF I HAD MY LIFE TO LIVE OVER

(Written after Erma Bombeck found out she was dying from cancer.)

I would have gone to bed when I was sick instead of pretending the earth would go into a holding pattern if I weren't there for the day.

I would have burned the pink candle sculpted like a rose before it melted in storage.

I would have talked less and listened more.

I would have invited friends over to dinner even if the carpet was stained, or the sofa faded.

I would have eaten the popcorn in the 'good' living room and worried much less about the dirt when someone wanted to light a fire in the fireplace.

I would have taken the time to listen to my grandfather ramble about his youth.

I would have shared more of the responsibility carried by my husband.

I would never have insisted the car windows be rolled up on a summer day because my hair had just been teased and sprayed.

I would have sat on the lawn with my grass stains.

I would have cried and laughed less while watching television and more while watching life.

I would never have bought anything just because it was practical, wouldn't show soil, or was guaranteed to last a lifetime.

Instead of wishing away nine months of pregnancy, I'd have cherished every moment and realized that the wonderment growing inside me was the only chance in life to assist God in a miracle.

When my kids kissed me impetuously, I would never have said, 'Later. Now go get washed up for dinner.' There would have been more 'I love you's.' More 'I'm sorry's.'

But mostly, given another shot at life, I would seize every minute...look at it and really see it ... live it...and never give it back. Stop sweating the small stuff.

Don't worry about who doesn't like you, who has more, or who's doing what.

Instead, let's cherish the relationships we have with those who do love us.

Let's think about what God HAS blessed us with. And what we are doing each day to promote ourselves mentally, physically, emotionally, as we only have one shot at this and then it's gone. I hope you all have a blessed day.

THE STATION

Tucked away in our subconscious minds is an idyllic vision. We see ourselves on a long, long trip that almost spans the continent. We're traveling by passenger train, and out the windows we drink in the passing scene of cars on nearby highways, of children waving at a crossing, of cattle grazing on a distant hillside, of smoke pouring from a power plant, of row upon row of corn and wheat, of flatlands and valleys, of mountains and rolling hills, of biting winter and blazing summer and cavorting spring and docile fall.

But uppermost in our minds is the final destination. On a certain day at a certain hour we will pull into the station. There will be bands playing, and flags waving. And once we get there so many wonderful dreams will come true. So many wishes will be fulfilled and so many pieces of our lives finally will be neatly fitted together like a completed jigsaw puzzle. How restlessly we pace the aisles, damning the minutes for loitering ... waiting, waiting, waiting, for the station.

However, sooner or later we must realize there is no one station, no one place to arrive at once and for all. The true joy of life is the trip. The station is only a dream. It constantly outdistances us.

'When we reach the station, that will be it!' we cry. Translated it means, 'When I'm 18, that will be it! When I buy a new 450 SL Mercedes Benz, that will be it! When I put the last kid through college, that will be it! When I have paid off the mortgage, that will be it! When I win a promotion, that will be it! When I reach the age of retirement, that will be it! I shall live happily ever after!'

Unfortunately, once we get it, then it disappears. The station somehow hides itself at the end of an endless track.

'Relish the moment' is a good motto, especially when coupled with Psalms 118:24: 'This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.' It isn't the burdens of today that drive men mad. Rather, it is regret over yesterday or fear of tomorrow. Regret and fear are twin thieves who would rob us of today.

So, stop pacing the aisles and counting the miles. Instead, climb more mountains, eat more ice cream, go barefoot oftener, swim more rivers, watch more sunsets, laugh more and cry less. Life must be lived as we go along. The station will come soon enough.

We don't need more strength or more ability or greater opportunity. What we need is to use what we have.

--Basil S. Walsh

Do not plan for ventures before finishing what's at hand.

--Euripides

He that can't endure the bad, will not live to see the good.

--Jewish Proverb

You Can Never Laugh Too Hard,
Dance Too Long,
Sing Too Loud,
Or Love Too Much.

--Unknown

No life is so hard that you can't make it easier by the way you take it.

--Ellen Glasgow

Always behave like a duck—keep calm and unruffled on the surface but paddle like the devil underneath.

--Jacob Braude

Nothing in life is to be feared. It is only to be understood.

--Marie Curie

There are only two ways to live your life. One is as though nothing is a miracle. The other is as though everything is a miracle.

--Albert Einstein

You can have anything you want if you want it desperately enough. You must want it with an exuberance that erupts through the skin and joins the energy that created the world.

--Sheila Graham

Keep away from people who belittle your ambitions. Small people always do that, but the really great make you feel that you too can become great.

--Mark Twain

You will do foolish things, but do them with enthusiasm.

--Colette

To be really great in little things, to be truly noble and heroic in the insipid details of everyday life, is a virtue so rare as to be worthy of canonization.

--Harriet Beecher Stowe

Lost time is never found again, and what we call time enough always proves little enough.

--Benjamin Franklin

If it works, copy it.

--Tony Schwartz

I find that the harder I work, the more luck I seem to have.

--Thomas Jefferson

Take a chance! All life is a chance. The man who goes furthest is generally the one who is willing to do and dare.

--Dale Carnegie

Look for joy in your life; it's not always easy to find.

--Charles Kuralt

Strive for excellence, not perfection

--H. Jackson Brown Jr.

A person has three choices in life. You can swim against the tide and get exhausted, or you can tread water and let the tide sweep you away, or you can swim with the tide, and let it take you where it wants you to go.

--Diane Frolov and Andrew Schneider

People who are always making allowances for themselves soon go bankrupt.

--Mary Pettibone Poole

I am careful not to confuse excellence with perfection. Excellence, I can reach for; perfection is God's business.

--Michael J. Fox

Beware of advice—even this.

--Carl Sandburg

Forget injuries, never forget kindnesses.

--Confucius

Create a definite plan for carrying out your desire and begin at once, whether you are ready or not, to put this plan into action.

--Napoleon Hill

Never take the advice of someone who has not had your kind of trouble.

--Sidney J. Harris

The time you enjoy wasting is not wasted time.

--Bertrand Russell

In the end, we decide if we're remembered for what happened to us or for what we did with it.

--Randy K. Milholland

Put up with it and you will get more of it.

--Lynne Deal

If you're full of love, admiration, appreciation of the beautiful things there are in this life, you have it made, really.

--Gloria Sturart

If I feel depressed I will sing. If I feel sad I will laugh. If I feel ill I will double my labor. If I feel fear I will plunge ahead. If I feel inferior I will wear new garments. If I feel uncertain I will raise my voice. If I feel poverty I will think of wealth to come. If I feel incompetent I will think of past success. If I feel insignificant I will remember my goals. Today I will be the master of my emotions.

-- Og Mandino

Blessed are the flexible, for they shall not be bent out of shape.

--Unknown

Leap, and the net will appear.

--Julia Margaret
Cameron

IN LIFE'S GARDEN

Count your garden by the flowers, never by the leaves that fall.

Count your days by the golden hours,
don't remember the clouds at all.

Count your nights by the stars,
not by shadows.

Count your life with smiles not tears,
and with joy through all your life.

Count your age by friends not years.

--Unknown

HERE ARE TEN RESOLUTIONS TO MAKE WHEN YOU AWAKE IN THE MORNING.

They are Just for One Day. Think of them not as a life task but as a day's work. These things will give you pleasure. Yet they require will power. You don't need resolutions to do what is easy.

1. Just for Today, I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle my whole life-problem at once. I can do some things for twelve hours that would appall me if I felt I had to keep them up for a lifetime.
2. Just for Today, I will be Happy. This assumes that what Abraham Lincoln said is true, that 'most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.' Happiness is from Within; it is not a matter of Externals.
3. Just for Today, I will Adjust myself to what Is, and not try to Adjust every thing to my own desires. I will take my family, my business, and my luck as they come, and fit myself to them.
4. Just for Today, I will take care of my Body. I will exercise it, care for it, and nourish it, and not abuse it nor neglect it; so that it will be a perfect machine for my will.
5. Just for Today, I will try to strengthen my mind, I will study. I will learn something useful, I will not be a mental loafer all day. I will read something that requires effort, though and concentration.
6. Just for Today, I will exercise my Soul. In three ways, to wit:
 - (a) I will do somebody a good turn and not get found out. If anybody knows of it, it will not count.
 - (b) I will do at least two things I don't want to do, as William James suggests just for exercise.
 - (c) I will not show any one that my feelings are hurt. They may be hurt, but Today I will not show it.

7. Just for To-day, I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress as becomingly as possible, talk low, act courteously, be liberal with flattery, criticize not one bit nor find fault with anything, and not try to regulate nor improve anybody.
8. Just for Today, I will have a Programme. I will write down just what I expect to do every hour. I may not follow it exactly, but I'll have it. It will save me from the two pests Hurry and Indecision.
9. Just for Today, I will have a quiet half hour, all by myself, and relax. During this half hour, some time, I will think of God, so as to get a little more perspective to my life.
10. Just for Today, I will be Unafraid. Especially I will not be afraid to be Happy, to enjoy what is Beautiful, to love and to believe that those I love love me.

--Frank Crane

Kindness has become its own motive. We are made kind by being kind.

--Eric Hoffer

When we do the best that we can, we never know what miracle is wrought in our life, or in the life of another.

--Helen Keller

Only a life lived for others is a life worthwhile.

--Albert Einstein

We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence then, is not an act, but a habit.

--Aristotle

Make yourself necessary to somebody. Do not make life hard to any.

--Ralph Waldo Emerson

Everyone lives by selling something.

--Robert Louis Stevenson

It is better to suffer wrong than to do it, and happier to be sometimes cheated than not to trust.

--Samuel Johnson

TAKE TIME

Take Time to Think,
It is the source of power.

Take time to Play,
It is the source of perpetual youth.

Take time to Read,
It is the foundation of wisdom.

Take time to Love and to Be Loved,
It is a present.

Take time to Be Friendly,
It is the road to happiness.

Take time to Laugh,
It is the music of the soul.

Take time to Give,
It is too short a day to be selfish.

Take time to Work,
It is the price of success.

Take time to Do Charity,
It is the key to heaven.

--Unknown

The only thing that overcomes hard luck is hard work.

--Harry Golden

Look, I don't want to wax philosophic, but I will say that if you're alive you've got to flap your arms and legs, you've got to jump around a lot, for life is the very opposite of death, and therefore you must at the very least think noisy and colorfully, or you're not alive.

--Mel Brooks

Be not afraid of growing slowly, be afraid only of standing still.

--Chinese Proverb

The greatest discovery of my generation is that a human being can alter his life by altering his attitudes of mind.

--William James

Be master of your petty annoyances and conserve your energies for the big, worthwhile things. It isn't the mountain ahead that wears you out—it's the grain of sand in your shoe.

--Robert Service

You don't have to specialize—do everything that you love and then, at some time, the future will come together for you in some form.

--Francis Ford Coppola

Seize opportunity by the beard, for it is bald behind.

--Bulgarian Proverb

Why not go out on a limb? Isn't that where the fruit is?

--Frank Scully

Retire but say, the hell with it, I'm going strong.

--Jacquelyn Mitchard

In the last months of her life, my mother-in-law dwelled in a hospital bed in our house. It took all of her strength to get down our steps, walk around the block, and get back to the front door. As we inched down the sidewalk, she pointed out every flower, the pattern in paving stones, the various shades of the trees and bushes. I had never seen my neighborhood like this. At first, I was infuriated by our pace. She would stop often, not because she was short of breath, but to examine the texture of a flower. It's hard to give ourselves even 15 minutes of the day. It means overcoming the nagging distraction of our many pressures and aims. My mother-in-law reminded me of the patient momentum of looking and really seeing, turning an ordinary walk into gladness for continuing to be among the living.

--Wendy Lustbader

If you act like the best version of yourself, eventually, you fake it 'till you make it.

--Carrie Fisher

My kids wouldn't dare say they were bored to me. I would kill them! How dare you!
You have the gift of life. You've got to get out there and eat it!

--Meryl Streep

Only the boring are bored.

--Tommy Lee Jones

You are only going to be the size of your dream. To dream big or dream small takes the same amount of energy, so why not stretch a little bit?

--Carlos Brito

Do not focus on the past. Be future focused. If you've done something great or terrible in the past, forget it and go on and create the next thing.

--Steve Jobs

Do the right thing, the good thing, the kind and remarkable thing, for you may not get another chance.

--Kathleen Parker

I learned this, at least, by my experiment; that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours.

--Henry David Thoreau

Be the heroine of your own story, not the victim.

--Nora Ephron

Choose life. Choose to forgive. Choose to accept, to neither covet nor compare....Let us be grateful for our blessings and be kind and loving, not only to those we love, but also to ourselves. Let us see the glass as half full, at least.

--Susan Estrich

The most important point is—and remains—not to take oneself seriously. There is no past, and, certainly, no future. There are but a few years—ten at the most. You pass your days as best you can, doing as little harm as possible. Let the desires be few and treat expectations as weeds. You read, scribble as the spirit moves you, hear some new music, see every week the few people you are attached to. Again:
guard yourself, above all, against self-dramatization, a feeling of importance, and the sprouting of expectations.

--Eric Hoffer

It doesn't matter where you're coming from. All that matters is where you're going.
--Brian Tracy

Only those who are capable of silliness can be called truly intelligent.
--Christopher Isherwood

The key to a happy life is to focus on doing good not doing well.
--Erma Bombeck

The way you do anything is the way you do everything.
--Tom Waits

To dare is to lose one's footing momentarily.
Not to dare is to lose oneself.
--Søren Kierkegaard

I always worry about people who say, 'I'm going to do this for 10 years; I really don't like it very well. And then I'll do this....' That's a little like saving up sex for your old age. Not a very good idea.
--Warren Buffett

Could singlehood be, rather than a state of emergency or a problem that had to be solved, a positive life choice? Is a single person always the unmatched half of something, or could he or she be complete as is?
--Marion Winik

If I had my life to live again, I'd make the same mistakes, only sooner.
--Tallulah Bankhead

You have enemies? Good. That means you've stood up for something in your life.
--Sir Winston Churchill

Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it.
--Ferris Bueller

Believe and act as if it were impossible to fail.
--Charles Kettering

Don't judge each day by the harvest you reap, but by the seeds you plant.
--Robert Louis Stevenson

Build up your weaknesses until they become your strong points.
--Knute Rockne

Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever.
--Mahatma Gandhi

Life is short. Forgive quickly. Kiss slowly.
--Robert Doisneau

Everything you want is on the other side of fear.
--Jack Canfield

The best portion of a good man's life is his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love.
--William Wordsworth

Do you want to be safe and good, or do you want to take a chance and be great?
--Jimmy Johnson

Make it a habit to tell people thank you. To express your appreciation, sincerely and without the expectation of anything in return. Truly appreciate those around you, and you'll soon find many others around you. Truly appreciate life, and you'll find that you have more of it.
--Ralph Marston

I resolve to speak ill of no man whatever, not even in a matter of truth but rather by some means excuse the faults I hear charged upon others, and upon proper occasions speak all the good I know of everybody.
--Benjamin Franklin

The best way out is always through.
--Robert Frost

Somebody should tell us, right at the start of our lives, that we are dying. Then we might live life to the limit, every minute of every day. Do it! I say. Whatever you want to do, do it now! There are only so many tomorrows.
--Pope Paul VI

IF

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies, Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise:
If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools:
If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: 'Hold on!'
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

--Rudyard Kipling

If you look at what you have in life, You'll always have more. If you look at what you don't have in life, You'll never have enough.

--Oprah Winfrey

If you can dream it, you can do it.

--Walt Disney

Regret for the things we did can be tempered by time; it is regret for the things we did not do that is inconsolable.

--Sydney J. Harris

'I have done my best.' That is about all the philosophy of living one needs.

--Lin Yutang

Do for this life as if you live forever, do for the afterlife as if you die tomorrow.

--Ali ibn Abi Talib

The only difference between a rut and a grave are the dimensions.

--Ellen Glasgow

Always compare yourself to the best. Even if you never measure up, it can't help but make you better.

--Tom Robbins

Unnecessary possessions are unnecessary burdens. If you have them, you have to take care of them! There is great freedom in simplicity of living. It is those who have enough but not too much who are the happiest.

--Peace Pilgrim

Patience! The windmill never strays in search of the wind.

--Andy J. Sklivis

Life is uncertain. Eat dessert first.

--Ernestine Ulmer

If you're not having fun it's not worth doing.

--Tommy Bolin

I believe you should live each day as if it is your last, which is why I don't have any clean laundry because, come on, who wants to wash clothes on the last day of their life.

--Unknown Child

If you don't make your dreams a reality, reality will take away your dreams.

--Eric Pio

Worry does not empty tomorrow of its sorrow. It empties today of its strength.
--Corrie Ten Boom

God gave us the gift of life; it is up to us to give ourselves the gift of living well.
—Voltaire

Don't say you don't have enough time. You have exactly the same number of hours per day that were given to Helen Keller, Pasteur, Michelangelo, Mother Teresa, Leonardo da Vinci, Thomas Jefferson, and Albert Einstein.
—H. Jackson Brown

I hope that my achievements in life shall be these—that I will have fought for what was right and fair, that I will have risked for that which mattered, and that I will have given help to those who were in need that I will have left the earth a better place for what I've done and who I've been.
—Art Hoppe

Live as if you were living a second time, and as though you had acted wrongly the first time.
--Viktor E. Frankl

I feel monotony and death to be almost the same.
—Charlotte Bronte

I say to myself that I shall try to make my life like an open fireplace, so that people may be warmed and cheered by it and so go out themselves to warm and cheer.
—George Matthew Adams

I don't want to get to the end of my life and find that I lived just the length of it. I want to have lived the width of it as well.
—Diane Ackerman

Life is no brief candle to me. It is a sort of splendid torch which I am permitted to hold for the moment, and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations.
—George Bernard Shaw

Jump, and you will find out how to unfold your wings as you fall.
—Ray Bradbury

One of the most tragic things I know about human nature is that all of us tend to put off living. We are all dreaming of some magical rose garden over the horizon—instead of enjoying the roses blooming outside our windows today.

—Dale Carnegie

What you can do, or dream you can do, begin it;
boldness has genius, power and magic in it.

—Johann Wolfgang von
Goethe

There is one piece of advice, in a life of study, which I think no one will object to and that is, every now and then to be completely idle—to do nothing at all.

—Sydney Smith

Don't let your dreams be dreams.

—Jack Johnson

Lost wealth may be replaced by industry, lost knowledge by study, lost health by temperance or medicine, but lost time is gone forever.

—Samuel Smiles

Seize the day, put no trust in the morrow!
[Carpe diem, quam minimum credula postero.]

—Horace

Sometimes the road less traveled is less traveled for a reason.

—Jerry Seinfeld

Life is not always a matter of holding good cards, but sometimes, playing a poor hand well.

—Jack London

Follow your heart, but when your heart starts to shit all over your life, follow your brain.

—Unknown

Lighthouses don't go running all over an island looking for boats to save; they just stand there shining.

—Anne Lamott

Your problem is how you are going to spend this one and precious life you have been issued. Whether you're going to spend it trying to look good and creating the illusion that you have power over circumstances, or whether you are going to taste it, enjoy it and find out the truth about who you are.

—Anne Lamott

A good heart is better than all the heads in the world.

—Edward Bulwer-Lytton

Live as if you expected to live a hundred years, but might die tomorrow.

--Ann Lee

Do not be too moral. You may cheat yourself out of much life so. Aim above morality. Be not simply good; be good for something.

—Henry David Thoreau

The best way to predict your future is to create it.

—Abraham Lincoln

Be patient enough to live one day at a time, letting yesterday go and leaving tomorrow until it arrives.

—John F. Newton

Slow down and focus on quality time. Stop letting your timesaving gadgets, apps and technology take over the natural rhythms in your life. Turn them off. Turn the volume down. Get away from them. Go outside. Take a walk every day. Meditate. Have a conversation with a loved one. Break the pandemic hurry sickness. 'Slow' is not a negative word.

—Dr. Bill Thomas

Bear in mind that you should conduct yourself in life as at a feast.

—Epictetus

Be soft. Do not let the world make you hard. Do not let the pain make you hate. Do not let the bitterness steal your sweetness.

—Kurt Vonnegut

The most dangerous risk of all—the risk of spending your life not doing what you want on the bet you can buy yourself the freedom to do it later.

—Randy Komisar

No such thing as spare time.
No such thing as free time.
No such thing as down time.
All you got is life time.
Go.

—Henry Rollins

If you trust in yourself...and believe in your dreams...and follow your star...you'll still get beaten by people who spent their time working hard and learning things and weren't so lazy.

—Terry Pratchett

The real question is not whether life exists after death. The real question is whether you are alive before death.

—Osho

Don't pray for an easy life. Pray for the strength to endure a difficult one.

—Bruce Lee

Keep your broken arm inside your sleeve.

—Chinese Proverb

The proper function of man is to live, not to exist. I shall not waste my days in trying to prolong them. I shall use my time.

—Jack London

Never be in a hurry; do everything quietly and in a calm spirit. Do not lose your inner peace for anything whatsoever, even if your whole world seems upset.

—Saint Francis de Sales

You've got to get up every morning with determination if you're going to go to bed with satisfaction.

—George Horace Lorimer

I will speak ill of no one and speak all the good I know of everybody.

—Andrew Jackson

Don't cry over the past, it's gone. Don't stress about the future, it hasn't arrived. Live in the present and make it beautiful.

—Unknown

However many holy words you read, how many you speak, what good will they do you if you do not act upon them?

—The Buddha

Let your smile change the world, not the world change your smile.

—Inspiremore.com

Please don't judge people. You don't know what it took someone to get out of bed, look and feel as presentable as possible and face the day. You never truly know the daily struggles of others.

—Karen Salmansohn

I never lose. Either I win or I learn.

—Nelson Mandela

Our prime purpose in this life is to help others. And if you can't help them, at least don't hurt them.

—Dalai Lama

10 SUGGESTIONS FOR LIVING A MORE MEANINGFUL LIFE

1. Be honest with everyone.
2. Change before you have to.
3. Control your own destiny or someone else will.
4. Face reality as it is, not as it was... or as you wish it to be.
5. Instill in others- faith, hope and self-confidence.
6. If you can't develop a competitive attitude or have a competitive advantage, don't try to compete. You'll lose.
7. Don't waste your time always looking for shortcuts.
8. Man-up when necessary.
9. Never lose faith in God.
10. Love.

—José N. Harris

Here is the simple but powerful rule... always give people more than they expect to get.

—Nelson Boswell

I'd rather regret the things I've done than regret the things I haven't done.

—Lucille Ball

I just want to be healthy and happy. I don't want to hurt anybody or make them mad. If that's a philosophy then that's my philosophy.

—Chad Michael Murray

Make the best use of what is in your power, and take the rest as it happens.

—Epictetus

Life is short. Cut out the negativity, forget gossip, say goodbye to people who don't care. Spend time with the people who are always there.

—lessonslearnedinlife.com

Good habits once established, are just as hard to break as bad habits.

—Robert Puller

Be decisive. Right or wrong, make a decision. The road of life is paved with flat squirrels who couldn't make a decision.

—Unknown

You either get bitter or you get better. It's that simple. You either take what has been dealt to you and allow it to make you a better person, or you allow it to tear you down. The choice does not belong to fate, it belongs to you.

—Josh Shipp

Action makes more fortune than caution.

—Charlotte Whitton

10 THINGS THAT REQUIRE ZERO TALENT

Being on Time

Work Ethic

Effort

Body Language

Energy

Attitude

Passion

Being Coachable

Doing Extra

Being Prepared

—Molly Fletcher

Eat the damn chocolate cake, get your hair wet, love someone, dance in those muddy puddles, tell someone off, draw a picture with crayons like you're still 6 years old and then give it to someone who is very important to you. Take a nap, go on vacation, do a cartwheel, make your own recipe, dance like no one sees you, paint each nail a different color, take a bubble bath, laugh at a corny joke. Get on that table and dance, pick strawberries, take a jog, plant a garden, make an ugly shirt and wear it all day, learn a new language, write a song, date someone you wouldn't usually go for, make a scrap book, go on a picnic, relax in the sun, make your own home video, kiss the un-kissed, hug the un-hugged, love the unloved, and live your life to the fullest. So at the end of the day, you'll have no regrets, no sorrows & no disappointments.

—Unknown

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

—Henry Wadsworth
Longfellow

Just living is not enough.
One must have sunshine, freedom,
and a little flower.

—Hans Christian
Anderson

Hasty climbers have sudden falls

—Italian Proverb

To laugh often and love much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded.

—Ralph Waldo
Emerson

The trouble is, if you don't risk anything, you risk even more.

—Erica Jong

Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as you ever can.

—John Wesley

Do not be too moral. You may cheat yourself out of much life.

—Henry David Thoreau

Be a reflection of what you'd like to see in others.
If you want love, give love.
If you want honesty, give honesty.
If you want respect, give respect.
You get in return, what you give.

—Unknown

We seem to be going through a period of nostalgia, and everyone seems to think yesterday was better than today. I don't think it was, and I would advise you not to wait ten years before admitting today was great. If you're hung up on nostalgia, pretend today is yesterday and just go out and have one hell of a time.

—Art Buchwald

Tell the truth, work hard, and come to dinner on time.

—Gerald R. Ford

ADVICE TO YOUNG PEOPLE

1. Expect rejection, but expect even more strongly to overcome it. There will be many 'failures' sprinkled among the successes you enjoy. A failure becomes just one bad time at bat if you refuse to let it defeat you.
2. Whatever life's work you decide upon, avoid choosing it primarily for reasons of security or because of the money involved.
3. So long as you are not being merely impetuous, do not be reluctant to follow your heart.

—Marvin Levy

Some say the will to win is a bad thing. In what way? Education is supposed to prepare a young person for life, and life is competition. Success in life goes only to the person who competes and wins. A successful lawyer is the one who goes out and wins—wins law cases. A successful physician is one who goes out and wins—saves lives and restores people to health. A successful sale manager is a man who goes out and wins—sells the goods. The successful executive is the man who can make money. There is no reward for losing. So that leaves living life only one way—with the will to win!

—Knut Rockne

Dance like no one is watching. Sing like no one is listening. Love like you've never been hurt. And live like it's heaven on Earth.

—Mark Twain

A human being should be able to change a diaper, plan an invasion, butcher a hog, conn a ship, design a building, write a sonnet, balance accounts, build a wall, set a bone, comfort the dying, take orders, give orders, cooperate, act alone, solve equations, analyze a new problem, pitch manure, program a computer, cook a tasty meal, fight efficiently, die gallantly. Specialization is for insects.

—Robert Heinlein

Don't make promises when you're happy, don't respond when you're angry, and don't make decisions when you're sad.

—Ziad K. Abdelnour

It was on my fifth birthday that Papa put his hand on my shoulder and said, 'Remember, my son, if you ever need a helping hand, you'll find one at the end of your arm.'

—Sam Levenson

Do the best you can, and don't take life too serious.

—Will Rogers

Associate with noblest people you can find; read the best books; live with the mighty. But learn to be happy alone. Rely upon your own energies, and do not wait for, or depend on other people.

—Thomas Davidson

You have to count on living every single day in a way you believe will make you feel good about your life—so that if it were over tomorrow, you'd be content with yourself.

—Jane Seymour

Stop worrying about the potholes in the road and celebrate the journey!

—Barbara Hoffman

A man has to live with himself, and he should see to it that he always has good company.

--Charles Evans Hughes

You are not in charge of the universe: you are in charge of yourself.

--Arnold Bennett

Be spontaneous! When was the last time you did something completely out of character? You have to open yourself to trying new things, especially those that you may previously never have thought of doing, or had been too hesitant to attempt. This is how you open doors of opportunity for positive growth. When we try new experiences, we allow ourselves to feel again. Everything in life can't be planned. Sometimes you just need to let your hair down and live in the moment. Being spontaneous will keep your life interesting and exciting. So instead of saying no, start saying yes!

Certainly it is important to do things that provide enjoyment. But fun cannot be the end that shapes man's life. If all is 'enjoyed,' one will not know true joy.

--George W. Morgan

What we enjoy most is activity that is pleasant in itself and also hopeful for the future, as building a garage for one's car, preparing a garden, assorting notes for a book. There is a glamour on such things. What ends in the moment, like savory food, or games, or even beauty or passion, seems, when the mind rests upon it, to baulk our human nature a little. When a thing is done, make the best of it.

--German Proverb

When you grow up you tend to get told that the world is the way it is and you're life is just to live your life inside the world. Try not to bash into the walls too much. Try to have a nice family life, have fun, save a little money. That's a very limited life. Life can be much broader once you discover one simple fact: Everything around you that you call life was made up by people that were no smarter than you. And you can change it, you can influence it... Once you learn that, you'll never be the same again.

—Steve Jobs

One should guard against preaching to young people success in the customary form as the main aim in life. The most important motive for work in school and in life is pleasure in work, pleasure in its result, and the knowledge of the value of the result to the community.

—Albert Einstein

Monotony collapses time; novelty unfolds it. You can exercise daily and eat healthily and live a long life, while experiencing a short one. If you spend your life sitting in a cubicle and passing papers, one day is bound to blend unmemorably into the next—and disappear. That's why it's so important to change routines regularly, and take vacations to exotic locales, and have as many new experiences as possible that can serve to anchor our memories. Creating new memories stretches out psychological time, and lengthens our perception of our lives.

In the morning be first up, and in the evening last to go to bed, for they that sleep catch no fish.

—English Proverb

French women avoid anything that demands too much effort for too little pleasure. They aren't racing to the top, because most don't consider it worth the game. They care less about being the most successful person in the room and more about being the most content. They reject the notion that success is based on how hard you work and measure their happiness instead by the amount of pleasure extracted. With our common sense, rationale, humor, and joie de vivre the French seem to convince the world of what they want to hear: to take it easy and simply.

If one is forever cautious, can one remain a human being?

—Aleksander
Solzhenitsyn

I no longer have patience for certain things, not because I've become arrogant, but simply because I reached a point in my life where I do not want to waste more time with what displeases me or hurts me. I have no patience for cynicism, excessive criticism and demands of any nature. I lost the will to please those who do not like me, to love those who do not love me and to smile at those who do not want to smile at me.

I no longer spend a single minute on those who lie or want to manipulate. I decided not to coexist anymore with pretense, hypocrisy, dishonesty and cheap praise. I do not tolerate selective erudition nor academic arrogance. I do not adjust either to popular gossiping. I hate conflict and comparisons. I believe in a world of opposites and that's why I avoid people with rigid and inflexible personalities. In friendship I dislike the lack of loyalty and betrayal. I do not get along with those who do not know how to give a compliment or a word of encouragement. Exaggerations bore me and I have difficulty accepting those who do not like animals. And on top of everything I have no patience for anyone who does not deserve my patience.

— José Micard Teixeira

Make it a point to do something every day that you don't want to do. This is the golden rule for acquiring the habit of doing your duty without pain.

--Mark Twain

One of the secrets of successful living is found in the word balance, referring to the avoidance of harmful extremes. We need food, but we should not overeat. We should work, but not make work our only activity. We should play, but not let play rule us. Throughout life, it will be important to find the safety of the middle ground rather than the imbalance of the extremes.

—James C. Dobson

The reason why dogs don't live as long as people according to a four-year-old: Everybody is born so that they can learn how to live a good life—like loving everybody and being nice, right? Well, animals already know how to do that, so they don't have to stay as long.

ELEVEN HINTS FOR LIFE

1. It hurts to love someone and not be loved in return. But what is more painful is to love someone and never find the courage to let that person know how you feel.
2. A sad thing in life is when you meet someone who means a lot to you, only to find out in the end that it was never meant to be and you just have to let go.
3. The best kind of friend is the kind you can sit on a porch swing with, never say a word, and then walk away feeling like it was the best conversation you've ever had.
4. It's true that we don't know what we've got until we lose it, but it's also true that we don't know what we've been missing until it arrives.
5. It takes only a minute to get a crush on someone, an hour to like someone, and a day to love someone—but it takes a lifetime to forget someone.
6. Don't go for looks, they can deceive. Don't go for wealth, even that fades away. Go for someone who makes you smile because it takes only a smile to make a dark day seem bright.
7. Dream what you want to dream, go where you want to go, be what you want to be. Because you have only one life and one chance to do all the things you want to do.
8. Always put yourself in the other's shoes. If you feel that it hurts you, it probably hurts the person too.
9. A careless word may kindle strife. A cruel word may wreck a life. A timely word may level stress. But a loving word may heal and bless.
10. The happiest of people don't necessarily have the best of everything they just make the most of everything that comes along their way.
11. Love begins with a smile, grows with a kiss, ends with a tear. When you were born, you were crying and everyone around you was smiling. Live your life so that when you die, you're the one smiling and everyone around you is crying.

You need to stay positive in life. In sports, it means letting go of bad shots. In life, it means letting go of mistakes.

—Martina Navratilova

If I had my life to live over again, I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week; for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would have thus been kept active through use. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness, and may possibly be injurious to the intellect, and more probably to the moral character, by enfeebling the emotional part of our nature.

—Charles Darwin

Life goes through changes so fast, you think your life is great, than one of your best friends dies. Then you think you found someone you truly love, only to figure out, she doesn't love you back. You cry and cry and cry, but nothing changes. You realize, that you must accept things for what they are, and what they have made you become. Everything in life changes you in some way. Even the smallest things. If you do not accept these changes, you do not accept yourself. For through these changes brings new and greater things to you, making you wiser, as time progresses. To avoid these changes is a loss. You only live your life once. Do not waste a minute of it avoiding things. Let them come to you, and learn from them. There's always tomorrow.

Years are only garments, and you either wear them with style all your life, or else you go dowdy to the grave.

--Dorothy Parker

Never regret a day in your life: good days give happiness, bad days give experience, worst days give lessons, and best days give memories.

—Sukhraj S. Dhillon

As we grow older, and hence wiser, we slowly realize that wearing a $300 watch or a $30.00 watch, they both tell the same time. Whether we carry a $500 or a $5.00 wallet—the money inside is the same. Whether we drink a bottle of $500 champagne or $5 wine—the hangover is the same. Whether the house we live in is 300 or 3000 sq. ft.—loneliness is the same. Whether you drive a $1,000 hunk of junk or a $100,000 Benz, they both serve the same purpose.

You will realize that your true happiness does not come from the material things from this world. It comes from spending our short time here living and laughing with the ones we love. Remember. Stay humble. We all end up in the same sized hole in the ground.

You are holding a cup of coffee when someone comes along and shoves you or shakes your arm, making you spill your coffee everywhere. Why did you spill the coffee? 'Well because someone bumped into me, of course!'

Wrong answer.

You spilled the coffee because coffee was in the cup.

If tea had been in it, you would have spilled tea.

Whatever is inside the cup is what will come out.

Therefore, when life comes along and shakes you (which will happen), whatever is inside of you will come out.

It's easy to fake it until you get rattled.

So we have to ask ourselves....what's in my cup?

When life gets tough, what spills over?

Joy, gratefulness, peace and humility?

Or anger, bitterness, harsh words and actions?

You choose!

Today let's work towards filling our cups with gratitude, forgiveness, joy, words of affirmation to yourself and others, kindness, gentleness and love for others.

Oh my God, what if you wake up some day, and you're 65, or 75, and you never got your memoir or novel written; or you didn't go swimming in warm pools and oceans all those years because your thighs were jiggly and you had a nice big comfortable tummy; or you were just so strung out on perfectionism and people-pleasing that you forgot to have a big juicy creative life, of imagination and radical silliness and staring off into space like when you were a kid? It's going to break your heart. Don't let this happen.

—Anne Lamott

'Follow your passion?' No.

Follow your effort. No one quits anything they're good at. While passion can spark effort, the reverse is more often true. Effort, and the improvement that results, creates passion. Do something poorly? You probably dread doing it. Do something well? You enjoy it—and the better you get, the more you like doing it....There are a lot of things I am passionate about. (But) the things I ended up being really good at were the things I found myself putting effort into. A lot of people talk about passion, but that's really not what you need to focus on....When you look at where you put in your time, where you put in your effort, that tends to be the things that you are good at. And if you put in enough time, you tend to get really good at it.

If you put in enough time, and you get really good, I will give you a little secret: Nobody quits anything they are good at, because it is fun to be good. It is fun to be one of the best.

—Mark Cuban

12 THINGS TO ALWAYS REMEMBER:

- The past cannot be changed.
- Opinions don't define your reality.
- Everyone's journey is different.
- Things always get better with time.
- Judgements are a confession of character.
- Overthinking will lead to sadness.
- Happiness is found within.
- Positive thoughts create positive things.
- Smiles are contagious.
- Kindness is free.
- You only fail if you quit.
- What goes around comes around.

If I sit still and don't do anything, the world goes on beating like a slack drum, without meaning. We must be moving, working, making dreams to run toward; the poverty of life without dreams is too horrible to imagine.

MORE BUTTS THAN BRAINS

Sittin'.
People sit.
Just sit.
Really?
When life's so short?
Sittin'
Wastes one's precious time,
Such vital bits of life.
Life is not a waiting room.
Your action breeds delight.
Sit with
A pole, a book, a phone.
Catch a fish, communicate,
Converse, consort.
Revel in life while you can.

10 LESSONS I WANT TO INSTILL IN MY KIDS:

If you're thankful, show it.
If you love someone, tell them.
If you're wrong, fess up.
If you're confused, ask questions.
If you learn something, teach others.
If you're stuck, ask for help.
If you made a mistake, apologize.
If you trip, get back up.
If someone needs help, help them.
If you see wrong, take a stance.

Go into the arts. I'm not kidding. The arts are not a way to make a living. They are a very human way of making life more bearable. Practicing an art, no matter how well or badly, is a way to make your soul grow, for heaven's sake. Sing in the shower. Dance to the radio. Tell stories. Write poem to a friend, even a lousy poem. Do it as well as you possibly can. You will get an enormous reward. You will have created something.

Maturity is when you stop trying to change people and instead focus on changing yourself.

Maturity is when somebody hurts you and you try to understand their situation instead of trying to hurt them back.

Maturity is when you accept people for who they are.

Maturity is when you understand that everyone is right in their own perspective.

Maturity is when you realize that nothing is more important in this world than you and your family.

Maturity is when you understand that whatever you do, you do for your own peace.

Maturity is when you stop proving to the world how intelligent you are.

Maturity is when you focus on positives in people.

Maturity is when you do not seek approval from others.

Maturity is when you stop comparing yourself to others.

Maturity is when you are at peace with yourself.

Maturity is when you can differentiate between Need and Want, and you can let go of your wants.

Maturity is when you stop attaching Happiness to material things.

Maturity is when you learn to Let go, accept the situations and move on.

Maturity is when you don't react to the behaviour of insane people.

Maturity is when you are able to drop expectations from a relationship and give for the sake of giving.

Maturity is when you are able to walk away from people and situations that threaten your peace of mind, self-respect, value, morals or self-worth.

Maturity is when you have a lot to say, but you choose to remain silent in front of fools.

7 RULES OF LIFE

- Make peace with your past so it won't disturb your future.
- What other people think of you is none of your business.
- The only person in charge of your happiness is you.
- Don't compare your life to others. Comparison is the thief of joy.
- Time heals almost everything. Give it time.
- Stop thinking so much. It's alright not to know all the answers.
- Smile. You don't own all the problems in the world.

Sometimes having no script, having no idea what is going to happen next, having no map, might be the way to go. Because life just happens, and when it does, how you handle it will teach you more about who you are than any class or test ever can. The best preparation for the rest of your life is, maybe, no preparation at all. Dive right in. Make mistakes. Break a few rules. Wing it.

Life is about giving and taking. You cannot expect to give bad and receive good. You cannot expect to give hate and receive love. So if you're willing to see positive change in your life, you must be willing to be that change itself.

—Najwa Zebian

People who have a religion should be glad, for not everyone has the gift of believing in heavenly things. You don't necessarily even have to be afraid of punishment after death; purgatory, hell, and heaven are things that a lot of people can't accept, but still a religion, it doesn't matter which, keeps a person on the right path. It isn't the fear of God but the upholding of one's own honor and conscience. How noble and good everyone could be if, every evening before falling asleep, they were to recall to their minds the events of the while day and consider exactly what has been good and bad. Then, without realizing it you try to improve yourself at the start of each new day; of course, you achieve quite a lot in the course of time. Anyone can do this, it costs nothing and is certainly very helpful. Whoever doesn't know it must learn and find by experience that: 'A quiet conscience makes one strong!'

THE FOUR AGREEMENTS:

BE IMPECCABLE WITH YOUR WORD

Speak with integrity. Say only what you mean. Avoid using the word to speak against yourself or to gossip about others. Use the power of your word in the direction of truth and love.

DON'T TAKE ANYTHING PERSONALLY

Nothing others do is because of you. What others say and do is a projection of their own reality, their own dream. When you are immune to the opinions and actions of others, you won't be the victim of needless suffering.

DON'T MAKE ASSUMPTIONS

Find the courage to ask questions and to express what you really want. Communicate with others as clearly as you can to avoid misunderstandings, sadness, and drama. With just this one agreement, you can completely transform your life.

ALWAYS DO YOUR BEST

Your best is going to change from moment to moment; it will be different when you are healthy as opposed to sick. Under any circumstance, simply do your best, and you will avoid self-judgment, self-abuse, and regret.

If I Had My Life to Live Over, I'd dare to make more mistakes. I'd relax, I would limber up. I would be sillier than I have been this trip. I would take fewer things seriously. I would take more chances. I would climb more mountains and swim more rivers. I would eat more ice cream and less beans. I would perhaps have more actual troubles, but I'd have fewer imaginary ones. You see, I'm one of those people who live sensibly and sanely hour after hour, day after day. Oh, I've had my moments, and if I had it to do over again, I'd have more of them. In fact, I'd try to have nothing else. Just moments, one after another, instead of living so many years ahead of each day. I've been one of those persons who never goes anywhere without a thermometer, a hot water bottle, a raincoat and a parachute. If I had to do it again, I would travel lighter than I have. If I had my life to live over, I would start barefoot earlier in the spring and stay that way later in the fall. I would go to more dances. I would ride more merry-go-rounds. I would pick more daisies.

—Nadine Stair, (Age 85)

Everyone must leave something in the room or left behind when he dies, my grandfather said. A child or a book or a painting or a house or a wall built or a pair of shoes made. Or a garden planted. Something your hand touched some way so your soul has somewhere to go when you die, and when people look at that tree or that flower you planted, you're there. It doesn't matter what you do, he said, so long as you change something from the way it was before you touched it into something that's like you after you take your hands away. The difference between the man who just cuts lawns and a real gardener is in the touching, he said. The lawn-cutter might just as well not have been there at all; the gardener will be there a lifetime.

Begin your day unplugged. In the past, I would wake up in the morning with my phone by my bed. My brain was acclimated to grabbing the phone within seconds of being awoken and checking my notifications and email. It was an immediate jolt of disruption that had me off and running without properly taking the time to get quiet, meditate/pray, reflect and think about my day. I learned to retrain my brain to get up each morning to first clear my head and tee the day up unencumbered by distraction. That meant putting the phone in another room the night before (in airplane mode) to minimize temptation. This has become super important to start the day peacefully, followed by a healthy breakfast and a short exercise routine (preferably outdoors, like taking a brisk walk) to get energized for the day ahead.

Live your life that the fear of death can never enter your heart. Trouble no one about their religion; respect others in their view, and demand that they respect yours. Love your life, perfect your life, beautify all things in your life. Seek to make your life long and its purpose in the service of your people. Prepare a noble death song for the day when you go over the great divide. Always give a word or a sign of salute when meeting or passing a friend, even a stranger, when in a lonely place. Show respect to all people and grovel to none. When you arise in the morning give thanks for the food and for the joy of living. If you see no reason for giving thanks, the fault lies only in yourself. Abuse no one and no thing, for abuse turns the wise ones to fools and robs the spirit of its vision. When it comes your time to die, be not like those whose hearts are filled with the fear of death, so that when their time comes they weep and pray for a little more time to live their lives over again in a different way. Sing your death song and die like a hero going home.
